Council Favors Water Expansion

City Council last night gave its blessing to a $750,000 water department expansion program.

An ordinance was approved over the objections of Councilman Boyd Horn authorizing the city solicitor to hire the Cleveland firm of Squire, Sanders and Dempsey as bound counsel.

Council went even further. The lawmakers, again over Horn's "No" vote, adopted a resolution calling for the Board of Utilities to raise water rates to finance the improvement.

Plans call for a 50 per cent increase in rates to finance the project. An elevated storage tank, iron removal plant and water-main extensions are included in the program.

The Board of Utilities plans to increase water rates six months early, to determine if the rate increase will be enough to finance the improvement.

UNDERWRITERS of the bonds want at least that much experience to make sure the rate boost will be sufficient. If at the end of the six-month trial period the rates are found to be sufficient the project can be undertaken. Rates then will continue at the new level during the life of the bonds.

Next step will be setting the actual rate schedule by the Board of Utilities and putting the new rates into effect.

Khrush Threatens Peace in Germany

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev has hurled a new threat to sign a separate peace treaty with the East German Communist regime in a move to end Western occupation of West Berlin.

The Soviet premier says the Big Three powers' position in West Berlin is "especially vulnerable."

Khrushchev's fresh threat was made in a speech delivered to party leaders in Moscow Jan. 6 and published in the current issue of the magazine Kommunist.

His speech constituted an interpretation of the declaration adopted at the Communist party summit conference in Moscow last fall.

Ranging across the field of foreign policy, he divided wars into three classes and said the world

Communist movement fully supports those of the third class—"acred" wars of national liberation. As examples, he cited the Algerian rebellion and Fidel Castro's revolution.

But it is to communism's advantage, he said, to avoid total first class wars of the total thermonuclear variety and second-class "brush fire" wars such as the Indochina fighting of 1953-54 and the British-French action in the Suez in 1956. He made no mention of the current fighting in Laos.

The Soviet leader confidently predicted that a victory for world communism "is not far off." He said this could be achieved without war. But he warned that war will come if the capitalist nations try to resist communism's victory—a victory he said is "inevitable" by the laws of historical development.

A production victory over the United States, he said, will be a factor in bringing about the triumph of world communism.

Khrushchev held firmly to previous Soviet policy toward West Berlin and once again denounced what he called "renascent West German militarism."

"The position of the U. S. A., Britain and France has proved to be especially vulnerable in West Berlin," he said. "These powers still try to cling to the old positions, but they cannot fail to realize that the occupation regime in that city will end sooner or later."

"It is necessary to continue, step by step, to bring aggressive-minded imperialists to their senses, to compel them to reckon with the real situation. And if they balk, we shall take resolute measures. We shall sign a peace treaty with the (East) German Democratic Republic, for we are fully determined to conclude a German peace treaty, at long last, in order to pull out the thorn that the occupation regime in West Berlin is."

Laos Forces Are Threatened

THA THOM, Laos (AP)—Pro-Communist rebels bore down on two key government positions in south central Laos today, and the outnumbered defenders prepared to take to the jungle for guerrilla operations.

"The Reds are coming—there is no question about it," said Maj. Phong Kave, commander of the undersized battalion at Tha Thom.

"We are reverting back to guerrilla warfare," said Col. Kham Khong at Paksane.

Swarming through the jungles, two rebel columns struck out across the narrow waist of this tiny Buddhist kingdom.

The double-barreled attack scattered government forces massing at Paksane, 90 miles northeast of Vientiane, and this forward outpost 40 miles to the north. The rebel advance spelled doom, at least for the present, to government plans to mount an attack from Paksane and Tha Thom on the rebel-held Plaine des Jarres and Xieng Khouang Province to the north and northeast.

Col. Khan, who was to have led the offensive from Paksane, said his defense forces for the entire area totaled two battalions, half of them in Tha Thom and the other half scattered through the mountains. He had only 70 men in Paksane itself Tuesday.

On the western front government forces were meeting with more success.

The capture of Vang Vieng, on the road to Luang Prabang, the royal seat 140 miles north of Vientiane, cleared the way for a flanking movement against the Plaine des Jarres.

Rebel commander Kong Le offered only token resistance in Vang Vieng. His forces pulled back to guard the plateau, which is the rebel's important air and communications area.

Juvenile Delinquency Hits All-Time High in County

Juvenile delinquency hit an all-time high in Pickaway County during 1960 according to a report from the County Juvenile Court today. A total of 282 cases were handled by the court last year.

Judge Guy Cline, juvenile court said today the reason for the increase in cases handled during 1960 is twofold. First of all, there has been a certain increase in delinquency. Next, and probably the greatest reason for the increase, is due to the addition of Ralph Starkey as probation officer.

Judge Cline continued to say that Starkey has been successfully attempting to do something about the delinquency that has existed over a period of years.

Figures from 1960 are an increase of 103 over cases handled by the court in 1959. Last year there were 272 days that juveniles were held in detention, an increase of 132 days over '59 figures.

The greatest increase of cases handled were official delinquent cases, which numbered 122 (1959 figures were 63).

Second greatest increase was found to be dependent and neglected children. A total of 57 cases were handled by the court last year.

Other totals of 1960 included 7 unofficial cases; 49 juvenile traffic offenders; 8 special services and 39 adult cases. The local Juvenile Court also handled 5 incidental cases.

Case totals by months for 1960 are: January 9; February, 8; March, 45; April, 20; May, 23; June, 23; July, 30; August, 19; September, 25; October, 36; November, 28; December, 16.

A summary of 1960 official cases is as follows:

Eleven juveniles were involved in auto theft. Among them were two boys age 12, two boys age 13 and a girl age 15.

BURGLARY or entry charges were filed against 23 juveniles; other theft, 38; two cases of school truancy; six runaways and nine cases of juveniles being ungovernable.

Fourteen sex offenses, which include one 11-year-old boy, an 11-year-old girl, a 15-year-old boy and two 15-year-old girls.

Pickaway County Drags Anchor; Most Of Ohio Has Retarded Child Classes

By ROBERT K. HARROD
Editor The Herald

Pickaway County has been dragging anchor as far as classes for severely retarded children are concerned.

A small movement is under way here to take the steps necessary to start classes for children who are too severely handicapped to be educated in the regular public school system.

Seventy-one of the State's 88 counties already have classes. Only two of the counties which do not have classes are larger than Pickaway County.

There is no reason for conflict with public schools in establishment of classes for severely retarded children. The law says schools are not obligated to try to educate those children whose IQs are below 50.

Classes for retarded children involve youngsters with IQs from 15-50. These are youngsters who have difficulties in a public school environment, but are able to obtain some satisfactory social habits in a class designed for them.

A preliminary investigation here shows there are between 15-25 children in Pickaway County who could benefit from special classes.

How are classes organized?

Mainly by a citizen's committee, usually called a Council for Retarded Children. The members, working with and through and under the guidance of the Child Welfare executive, obtain a place for classes, arrange transportation, find a teacher, and most importantly, find financing.

Here two classrooms have been offered neither of them, incidentally, are in the Circleville City School system.

State Aid is available on classes begin. It amounts to $300 for each child who completes a year in class. If there are enough children enrolled, that probably would pay for the teacher.

If necessary, children could carry lunches, reducing the organizing problems somewhat.

That leaves transportation as one of the major problems. However, steps are under way right now to solve this, and prospects are bright.

As to financing, some money will be needed to pay the teacher until state aid starts. More will be needed for transportation—such as driver hire, fuel and vehicle maintenance. If lunches are to be served, that would be an additional money problem.

HOW DO they do it in other places?

Some 58 per cent of the classes in Ohio are actively supervised by Councils for Retarded Children, 31 per cent by Child Welfare executives, and 11 per cent by school systems.

More than one-third of the classes receive financial assistance from the county government. In Ohio more than 300 school systems are helping to finance the classes. But, the largest percentage of assistance comes from the public through the Councils for Retarded Children.

A meeting will be held here in the near future, with the purpose of forming a local Council for Retarded Children. The public will be invited to attend.

Ike's Top Achievement: Preservation of Peace

Container, City To Divide Treatment Responsibility

The City of Circleville and Container Corporation of America have mutually agreed to a separation of responsibility for discharge of wastes into the Scioto River here.

Talks between city officials and local management of CCA have been under way for some time. Both parties agree that there should be a change in the present arrangement whereby the city is responsible for treating industrial wastes from the local paper manufacturing plant.

In 1937 CCA leased to the city some of its land and put up some cash toward construction of a sewage treatment plant here.

In turn the city agreed to treat the plant's waste materials.

It is now known that conventional treatment methods are not adaptable to treating pulp mill wastes.

Both CCA and the city spent thousands of dollars in the last few years trying to develop a means of treating the wastes from the plant. The joint effort was without practical success.

Thus the water pollution Control Board is in a position to refuse a permit to the city to discharge sewage into the Scioto under the state's anti-pollution laws.

The city's present permit expires February 15.

No changes will be made in the physical facilities due to the shift in responsibility. It is hoped that the Water Pollution Control Board will issue permits incorporating the altered responsibility.

Henry J. Schroeder, manager of the local CCA plant, said, "we recognize that treating industrial wastes and domestic sewage are different problems. This arrangement would allow us to face whatever problems come up in the future without a mixture of responsibility."

The Public Benefits

We congratulate the Container Corporation of America for its proposal to split sewage treatment responsibility here.

In the past many persons have felt that the city's treatment of CCA wastes has cost taxpayers heavily. Actually, Container has always paid for treatment of its waste.

However, the city has been responsible for maintaining a valid permit to discharge wastes into the Scioto River. It could happen that the Water Pollution Control Board would not renew a permit because of CCA waste.

In that event, the city would be responsible.

Now CCA, wishing to relieve the city of that possible burden, is requesting to be responsible to the state for its own wastes. It does not wish to have any of its possible problems placed on the shoulders of the citizens of Circleville.

The net result is that the general public is benefited.

Ike's Last News Conference Proves To Be One of Best

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower smiled, waved, raised his arms in the double-V for victory gesture, and disappeared through the door.

It was his last news conference as President of the United States.

And it was one of his best, a moving, meaningful final appearance before one of the biggest galleries of correspondents in all the eight years they have been gathering to question him.

In his physical appearance he looked trim, ruddy, radiantly healthy.

In manner he was resolute, concise, authoritative. Only once or twice did he pause to reach for a word.

In mood he ranged from sly, dry wit to the deepest seriousness. His mobile face reflected a broad spectrum of feelings.

Never, through all the long years, did he look more like the President.

He said, at the outset, that he had no "earth shaking" news. He had come to the high-vaulted conference room to say goodbye.

Then he said one man in the room had attended every conference, at home and abroad, in the eight years and had been of "invaluable" assistance. He asked Jack Romagna, the official stenographer, to stand up. (Romagna was the shorthand stenographer for Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, as well.)

The mood of the conference, naturally, was strongly tinged with reminiscence. The correspondents led him back to his first news conference. They asked him, in effect, what he thought of them, now that it was all over, and whether he thought reporters had been fair to him.

The sly, almost elfin expression came into his eyes when he said, "I don't see what the reporters could do to a president."

He looked a little bit like an entertainer, delivering lines that were sure to get laughs. They did.

But when he talked about the cold war, what he called the "intransigence" of the Russians, and the problems of government, the fun faded from his expression. He became grave, emphatic.

President Holds Final Press Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he considers the greatest achievement of his eight years in office was the preservation of peace in an era when weakness would almost certainly have brought disastrous war.

Eisenhower gave this appraisal in his last presidential news conference, attended by 280 reporters who crowded into the ornate Indian Treaty Room of the old State Department Building.

The 70-year-old soldier-president dealt quickly, smilingly and emphatically with questions concerned with foreign and domestic problems. He spoke most feelingly when asked what he considered his most satisfying achievement and most heartbreaking failure.

His great disappointment, Eisenhower said, was that the nation could not be brought to the place where it could be said that peace with justice was in sight.

As for achievements, Eisenhower went on, the eight years spanned a period in which the Russians achieved the hydrogen bomb, built an arsenal of nuclear weapons, and supported the warlike threats of the Red Chinese—a period in which this country was fighting a war in Korea and there was grave danger it would spread.

This government showed the understanding, firmness and willingness to take risks in support of policies which prevented the great war from coming, the President said.

Had there been weakness in that time, Eisenhower continued, he is convinced there would have been a war that would have been disastrous to all the earth.

After this grave speech—the longest of the news conference—Eisenhower suddenly grinned and said that Nov. 8 was another great disappointment.

Apart from this rueful comment, and despite the many probing questions, Eisenhower declined to give his version of what went wrong in the presidential election which cost the Republican party control of the White House.

But his comments were not completely free from political implications as he gave these replies to the cross-fire of questions:

THE FUTURE—The greatest problem facing President-elect John F. Kennedy will be that of dealing with the intransigent and unreasonable attitude of the Communist powers.

The basic difficulty will be in keeping this country strong and (Continued on Page 2)

Puerto Rico Set To Aid Kennedy in Latin Conferences

NEW YORK (AP)—President elect John F. Kennedy took a major step today to improve relations between Latin America and the United States through use of Puerto Rico as a goodwill clearing house.

Kennedy announced a plan after a conference at the Hotel Carlyle here with Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico.

"Gov. Munoz and I have agreed to take measures to expand the availability of Puerto Rico's facilities for a meeting place and workshop where we in the United States and our neighbors in Latin America may learn more about our mutual problems and the possibilities for the great achievements that we can attain by working together," Kennedy said.

firm, and yet conciliatory, in trying to meet the Soviet attitude, Eisenhower said.

ECONOMIC POLICY — The President slapped at the proposal of Kennedy's economic task force that federal spending be boosted by $3 billion to $5 billion to combat recession and unemployment.

Eisenhower said he is no economic prophet, but he believes the economy will be swinging upward gradually but steadily, and will provide more government revenues than it is now generating.

Public works and other spending programs generally don't take effect until 18 months after they are started—by which time the boom usually has begun again, Eisenhower said. But the billions of dollars spent, seem to stay forever in the public debt, he added.

Eisenhower told his 193rd and final White House news conference he has some radical ideas about changing the schedule of transition from one administration to another.

He said he favors a constitutional amendment which would change the time of the national elections and of inauguration of a new president to a point where the new executive would take office 80 days before he meets with his first Congress.

Eisenhower gave no specific dates. But since Congress ordinarily convenes Jan. 3, under his schedule the new president would have to take office about No. 10 instead of the present Jan. 20 date fixed in the Constitution.

This would make it necessary to move the presidential election ahead of the date now fixed—the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

In an expansive and nostalgic mood, Eisenhower answered a series of questions about the transition period he is going through at this point.

Up to now, he said this change-over from a Republican to a Democratic administration has been going splendidly. He said there were no complaints on his part. He will have a meeting Thursday with Kennedy to close out the final details.

Eisenhower said he would be pleased if congressional efforts were successful to restore to him the rank of five-star general which he resigned when he became president.

This would be merely a title without extra pay in addition to his presidential pension, Eisenhower said, but it would give him a title of his own and would be satisfying in view of his 40 years of military service.

Eisenhower chuckled when queried whether he had arrived at a final decision on whether he approves of the Constitutional Amendment limiting a president to two terms in office.

It's a funny thing, he observed, that ever since the election Republicans have been asking him the same question.

He said he had been inclined to dislike the third-term prohibition at first, but recognizes that without it the danger always would exist of perpetuating a dynasty in the White House. On balance, he said, he now believes that the limitation is a pretty good thing.

Foreign Policy To Change Slowly

WASHINGTON (AP)—The incoming Kennedy administration needs a foreign policy breathing spell of several months after inauguration to get its policies in shape for major negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Well-informed diplomats believe President-elect John F. Kennedy and his secretary of state-designate, Dean Rusk, will seek to avoid any important new foreign commitments or proposals until next spring or summer.

Meantime Kennedy and Rusk will have to deal with crises as they arise. The most urgent of these at present is the civil war in Laos where both the United States and the Soviet Union are involved through aid to the contending factions.

The breathing spell, as the diplomats see it, will be a period of intensive policy review in Washington and probably top-level Allied consultation. There is some speculation that after a period of months Kennedy might be interested in arranging a completely informal, brief, talk with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Certainly, it is believed here, Kennedy would want to meet with Allied leaders briefly and informally before any get-together with Khrushchev. There also is speculation that perhaps in the spring he would undertake a flying visit to Europe to see such men as British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

Kennedy has been in frequent touch with Rusk, whose headquarters are in the State Department. Their conferences are understood to have been primarily concerned with developments in Laos, Cuba, and other trouble spots and with the selection of chief officials for the State Department.

Steel Labor Trouble Said Exaggerated

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government task force assigned to study the steel industry's labor troubles came up today with one word of advice to the nation—relax.

The whole problem and its effects on the national economy are highly exaggerated, according to the surprising findings submitted by a staff headed by Prof. E. Robert Livernash of the Harvard Graduate School of Business.

Here are some of the task force's conclusions:

1. Actual adverse effects of steel strikes have not been of serious magnitude.

2. Neither have steel wage or price changes been serious in terms of the over-all economy, or in influencing other price and wage levels.

3. Little can be gained from changing the labor laws for dealing with national emergency strikes. Existing economic pressures are more effective persuaders. If the government has to get into a steel dispute, it should be on an informal basis at "truly critical stages."

4. Serious consideration should be given to advance arrangements so that in any future steel strike a few mills would be operated to insure enough steel for national defense needs.

The quicker everybody realizes how the steel labor problem has been exaggerated in the public mind, the study suggests, less attention will be paid the periodic steel labor bargaining, and probably fewer strikes will ensue.

girl for probation violation.

Seven unofficial delinquent cases were handled last year by the local Juvenile Court, which includes two 12-year-old boys for running away; a 15-year-old boy, auto theft; and a 16-year-old boy, auto theft.

A total of 14 boys were sentenced to Boys' Industrial School, Lancaster. Four girls were sent to the Girls' Industrial School, Delaware, and two boys were committed to the State Reformatory, Mansfield.

Heading the juvenile traffic of fender total of 49 cases were nine 17-year-old boys charged with speeding. Forty-three of the total were boys and the remaining six were girls.

DEPENDENT and neglected children increased from 11 cases to an all-time high for 57 cases. These children who lacked parental care ranged from 9 months old to 17 years.

The eight special services were permissions granted by the court for a marriage license to persons under 16 years old.

Adult cases handled by Juvenile Court reached the greatest high since 1956 when 55 cases were handled. Thirty-nine cases of adult behavior were disposed of in Juvenile Court during 1960. This included 14 cases of adults contributing to the delinquency of a minor; 21 cases of neglecting minor children; three bastardy cases and one case of abusing a minor child.

Dr. Montgomery Is Speaker at Lions Club

Dr. E. L. Montgomery spoke on "Myths, Fables and Facts of the Civil War" last night at the Circleville Lions Club dinner meeting.

The session was held at the Wardell Party Home, Route 2. Wes Edstrom announced that the club received the exclusive award from the Lions International for their attendance record.

EVERETT FUNK chairman of the sight saving committee, announced that 250 pupils' eyes have been examined in Circleville and Wayne Twp.

Plans were discussed for the 10th anniversary of the club. A banquet will be held at the Elks Club March 25th.

Funeral Director Drops Drunk Driving Appeal

CINCINNATI (AP)—Howard Sahnd, 43, Cincinnati funeral parlor operator, has elected to drop his appeal from a drunken driving conviction. His attorney told Common Pleas Court Tuesday that Sahnd plans to pay the $500 fine and $475 court costs Jan. 25 and will surrender to start a 90-day jail term.

Sahnd was convicted as driver of a car that backed across a downtown curb and struck four student nurses, injuring one seriously.

Beware of Cairo Purchases

Salah El Dissouki, the new governor of Cairo, has decreed an end to the flim-flam practiced on peasants who crowd into the big city from the desert hinterlands on festival days. Too many fellaheen, or boys from the country, have been sold the Nile bridges, the Gezira Sporting Club and other valuable properties. That sort of thing, the governor says, has got to stop.

Not all the victims are to gullible as to buy the bigger buildings. Some are content, for instance, to buy the clock concession at a mosque, as one did. This, he was told by a "salesman", entitled him to charge passers-by a piastre to read the time of day or night.

The governor's noble decree, along with the news that the government has taken over the Cairo street car company from the Belgians who had operated it for years, recalls the sale of a single tram to a foolish fellow during World War II. At the end of the run the "buyer" asked for the day's receipts, only to be led away by a policeman.

The next day a tent on a vacant lot was placarded: "Pay one piastre to see the man who bought the tram!" Inside, seated on a chair was a gentleman with a sorrowful appearance of one who has paid out good money for a street car. This man hadn't though.

Cairene ingenuity runs deep, its complexities are many and intricate. But at that Cairo may still be a safer place for strangers than New York.

Change Plays No Favorites

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—He looked familiar across the crowded ballroom, but for a moment I couldn't place him.

Then it came back to me. Why, of course. How could I ever forget? I had known him son well in high school, and had visited in his house several times then.

"It's a real pleasure to see you again, sir," I said, stepping up and wringing him by the hand. "You probably don't remember me, but I used to know your son Joe real well—years and years ago."

The man stared at me, then said: "You really are lost. I am Joe. I wondered when you were going to say hello."

Well, that's the way it is. They say you can't come home again. This isn't true. You can come home again.

But if you meet high school classmates after a quarter of a century or more you find something has happened to them.

You feel you are still the razzle-dazzle kid who used to drive the study hall teacher crazy. Nothing has changed you. But your classmates are different.

The girls look like their mothers, the boys like their fathers.

What has time done to them? It is very hard to understand.

It is now 24 years that every month that I left this lovely home town of mine—the heart of America—to storm New York City with empty pockets and a head full of dreams.

Through the years I have come back home as often as I could, as most sons of the Midwest do, to drink again from the renewing common sense fountain that flows deepest in the center of our continent.

On each visit I could see signs of vital change in terms of expansion and new building, but also signs of decay in things I would like to remain fixed forever as I had known them in my childhood.

The city was getting younger and fresher and taller, but the people and houses I had known were getting older and more tired.

On this trip, for example, Punky, the family dog, who is 9 years old, didn't bark when my cab rolled up to the house. She stood there waiting, like a cinnamon-colored duchess—she's mostly Chinese chow—until I patted her on the head. Then she smiled gravely and moved heavily after me to the front door.

"Poor Punky," said my mother later. "She has a bad cyst on her leg. We've given her X rays, and she's had two operations—and the doctor says a third won't do any good.

"It may be necessary later to put her to sleep, and I just can't think about it. None of us can. She has been such a good dog."

When you come home again, news like that depresses you. You feel the weight of mortality pressing on others. But somehow you feel impervious to change yourself. You are still as young as the day you left town. Nothing has happened to you.

The other night I went to a social occasion and overheard a couple talking.

"He's beginning to look more and more like his father," he said. "It's almost creepy."

"Oh, no," she disagreed. "His father never lost that much hair—and he would never have let himself get that fat."

He shrugged her. "Be careful. He's standing right there."

They walked away. It took me a full two minutes to realize whom they had been talking about.

Change plays no favorites. You can go home again—but you can't bring back quite the same person you took when you left.

Hoover Likes Kennedys

Many may be surprised at the apparent intimacy of Herbert Hoover and the Kennedys, father and son. Also that the genial last of the have spoken of John Kennedy in the following terms at his dedication of the Hoover Dike at Lake Okechobee, Fla.:

"I am sure that the American people earnestly wish for the success of the new Administration. It is faced with one of the greatest challenges of our whole history."

Herbert Hoover, while loyal to the Republican Party and grateful to it for the honors it has brought him, has always adopted a national point of view. He first served under Woodrow Wilson as Food Administrator. His relations with Wilson were closer than with any other President and he wrote a book which is the best apology for that President's career.

He subsequently served under Presidents Harding and Coolidge as Secretary of Commerce. He elevated that department to a position it has never since been able to maintain. Then he was elected President.

Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover were friends in the 1920's but when Roosevelt was President, he treated Hoover with utter contempt. During the whole of the Roosevelt regime, Hoover never entered the White House and was never treated with the common courtesy due his position.

However, Harry Truman reversed this attitude. He not only treated Herbert Hoover with the decent respect due to an ex-President, but he employed his services both as a food expert and in the development of the Commission for the Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. The two men seem to have taken a liking to each other and became friends.

President Eisenhower called on Mr Hoover before he became President. However, no friendship developed between these men. It is true that Eisenhower reappointed the Hoover Commission but his support was lukewarm. Also, Eisenhower knew that Hoover and most of his friends preferred Sen. Robert A. Taft.

The startling fact is that Richard Nixon was in the Waldorf Towers where Herbert Hoover and Gen. Douglas MacArthur live, for four days during the campaign without calling on either of them. This must have hurt Herbert Hoover cruelly because he was the man who selected Nixon to run for member of the House of Representatives.

Joe Kennedy, father of the President, was a member of the Hoover Commission and worked diligently. In fact, Mr. Hoover gained considerable respect for the elder Kennedy's knowledge of the complex structure of our government, particularly the new independent agencies.

Hoover often told me how reliable Joe Kennedy's knowledge was. Then, for a time, Robert Kennedy was employed as a counsel for the Hoover Commission and Hoover was often interested in his idea and in his stubbornness. Then, John Kennedy, as Senator, introduced measures in the Senate to implement the work of the Commission. A friendship developed between Mr. Hoover and Joe Kennedy, based on mutual respect.

This evidenced itself when Joe Kennedy called on Hoover to arrange for John Kennedy's meeting with Richard Nixon in Miami after the election. It was an unusual meeting because most often the elected candidate does not see the defeated candidate except during the Inauguration ceremonies. John Kennedy wanted to pay his respects to Richard Nixon without ceremony and Hoover agreed to arrange it, which he did over the telephone.

Since his election, John Kennedy has called on Hoover twice and has personally invited him to the Inauguration. For the first time in many decades, three former Presidents, Hoover, Truman and Eisenhower will be in attendance. Hoover will not stay too long because of the season of the year when it gets a bit chilly in Washington, but he is interrupting his fishing trip to the Florida keys to spend one day in Washington for this occasion.

Herbert Hoover is now 86 years old and is strenuously engaged in literary enterprises and in fund raising for certain pet purposes such as the Hoover Library, and the Boys' Clubs of America. He puts in long hours with one break after lunch for a siesta. He keeps in close touch with all the news of the day, but his most constant activity is research for his books.

He is no longer interested in partisan politics or in small gossip—taking the view that at his advanced age, there is too much to do and too little time to do it.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — This gives a picture of how government expenses have gone up, particularly military expenses.

In 1950 President Truman sent his last budget to Congress before the Korean War started. It called for a total of only $42.5 billion for all government expenses. Out of the total, he said, the military needed only $13.5 billion.

Came the War. Expenses soared. The war ended over six years ago. But increased government responsibilities have kept expenses high. An military expenses, because of the intense contest with communism, have mounted.

In his budget message to Congress Monday President Eisenhower asked almost $81 billion—nearly double the $42.5 billion Truman requested to cover all government spending.

And — whereas Truman asked for only $13.5 for the military, out of his total budget of $42.5 billion, Eisenhower requests $42.9 billion for the armed forces, more than Truman asked for the whole government in 1950.

But Eisenhower's budget — for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and ending June 30, 1962—will be both a memory piece and a yardstick.

In figuring a budget every agency of government has to estimate how much it will need to run another year. All these figures are reviewed and reviewed in an effort to keep them down.

This all takes a lot of time and doing, so much that the Eisenhower administration began putting together last fall the budget Eisenhower turned over to Congress Monday.

Obviously President-elect John F. Kennedy won't have time all for this. He won't submit his own budget until this time next year. But this year his administration will have spending ideas different from Eisenhower's.

Since Kennedy's ideas on what needs to be done — expressed in the campaign — go beyond anything Eisenhower had in mind in his budget, Kennedy probably will want to spend more than Eisenhower allowed for.

He'll run into a lot of criticism and heckling on this. His critics will use Eisenhower's budget estimates as a yardstick for measuring Kennedy's programs.

Still, Eisenhower was dealing in optimism in telling Congress he thought that he had figured things so closely that the government should wind up in the black.

While he suggested spending about $81 billion, he thought government income, from taxes and other revenue, would be even larger and that the country would wind up with a surplus of about $1.5 billion.

But this was optimism based on the hope that there would be a surplus only if the country became more prosperous and Congress increased postal rates and the gasoline tax and set up a new tax on jet fuel. Maybe it would, but its inclinations run the other way.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MISS CHOU CHOU HORNTOOT reports that she met a famous writer on international affairs charging down Madison Avenue with a bulky package under his arm. Asked to account for his haste, he explained, "I've just finished the last chapter of my new world history, and I want to get it to my publisher before some new damn thing happens."

Spotted on a gravestone in Cape Town, South Africa: "In memory of our father: gone to join his appendix, his tonsils, his kidney, his eardrum, and a leg erroneously amputated by an interne who craved the experience."

Poem composed by a 9-year-old student at a Friends' School: "The wind may be invisible But it certainly can make you misable."

HER KILLER SOUGHT—An intensive manhunt was launched throughout southwestern Michigan for the sex maniac killer of Geraldine Williams, 15, after her body was found at dusk in the dingy cellar of an abandoned farm house three miles from her farm home in rural South Haven. Her head had been crushed by repeated blows with a rock. She was killed while waiting for a school bus.

Kentucky Seeks Deal On Truck Tax

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The state of Kentucky wants Ohio to waive its axle-mile tax on trucks licensed in Kentucky.

In return, the state would exempt Ohio truckers from its added weight tag which costs from $22 to $500 yearly.

This reciprocal arrangement was proposed today by Motor Transportation Commissioner Foster Ockerman in a letter to Stanley J. Bowers, Ohio Tax commissioner, and others.

Ockerman and Ohio officials recently discussed the reciprocal relationship between the two states, particularly as it relates to motor carriers engaged in the transportation of household goods.

All Ohio truckers, except household movers, paid the weight fee in 1960. The movers were re-exempted by oral agreement, details of which are not clear, before Ockerman became commissioner.

By mutual agreement, Kentucky and Ohio now waive payment by truckers of the yearly basic registration fees charged by both states.

Besides the added weight tax, Ohio truckers pay Kentucky 9 cents a gallon for gasoline, including a 2-cent surtax, bought in Kentucky or bought elsewhere and used on Kentucky highways.

Ockerman told Bowers Kentucky could not waive its weight taxes unless this state's truckers were granted exemption from Ohio's axle mile tax.

POI? PHOOEY!—Most visitors to the 50th state react to their first taste of poi, Hawaiian staple made from taro root, just like United Air Lines stewardess Colleen Hallett. Idle Pay Claim List Rockets In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Unemployment compensation claims in Greater Cleveland passed the 50,000 mark last week and moved toward the June 14, 1958, record of 56,785.

New claimants totaled 5,376—the seventh straight week they have surpassed 5,000 — and continuing claims were 45,634, up about 4,000 from the previous week, E. C. Schulze, acting area director for the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, reported.

The blue collar worker, skilled and unskilled, is having the most difficulty holding onto a job, Schulze said. Of those drawing unemployment compensation here, 80 per cent are blue collar workers laid off in heavy industry, such as steel, aircraft, automobiles, foundries, or in metal fabricating, railroads, construction.

"This is strictly a young man's unemployment picture," Schulze said. "Seventy per cent are under 45."

About one of four persons drawing jobless pay is a woman, he said.

Scout Tradition Is Put on Shelf

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—Planning a mortgage-burning ceremony at a Boy Scout campsite, adult leaders decided it should be done in true scouting style—igniting the mortgage with flint and steel.

Don Roney of the Mo-Kan Council executive board stepped forward Monday night with his trusty scout kit.

He struck the flint again and again. Plenty of sparks, but the mortgage was unscorched.

A companion proved that fire can be kindled by flint and steel—in a cigarette lighter.

Scioto Chapel Aid Plans Banquet, Names Committee

Plans for a banquet, and a spring committee appointed high-lighted Scioto Chapel EUB Ladies Aid meeting Thursday afternoon in the parsonage.

The meeting opened with the group singing "The Way of the Cross Leads Home".

Mrs. Elzie Brooks read Scripture. She also presented three poems entitled "Only God Can Give a Friend", "A Lovely Light" and "This Is My Life".

Mrs. Brooks, president, welcomed Mrs. Jack Philo, who had been absent due to illness.

A "get well card" was sent by members to Mrs. Howard Younklin who is ill in Florida.

Mrs. Brooks appointed Mrs. Harold Fee, chairman of the spring committee. Other are Mrs. Raymond Hott, Mrs. Cecil Ward and Mrs. Ben Walker.

It was announced that members will serve at a banquet for the PC Referee Society January 26th. Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Charles Huston will be in charge of arrangements.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served to 17 members and a guest, Mrs. Ralph Hott. Hostesses were Mrs. Joan Morgan, Mrs. Mable Isham, Mrs. Rex Hall, Jr., Mrs. Jack Philo and Mrs. Coit Wilson.

The Rev. John Morgan gave closing prayer.

Mrs. Carothers Presents Program at WSWs Meeting

Mrs. Andrew Goeller, Mrs. William Puckett and Mrs. Ida Warner were hostesses to Calvary EUB Church WSWs members recently in the church annex.

The meeting opened with the group singing "Standing on the Promises". Prayer was given by Mrs. Goeller.

Mrs. Dale DeLong reported that the Youth Fellowship surpassed its goal for missions. The Youth Fellowship banquet will be January 20th.

It was announced that a speaker for the World Day of Prayer service as of yet had not been secured.

Members voted to purchase a garbage pail for the church kitchen.

Mrs. Manley Carothers had charge of the program which was entitled "Into All the World Together".

The complete program on the four topics: 1-The World; 2-Using the Bible; 3-Following the Cross; 4-The Church: will be carried out through the next three programs.

Mrs. Carothers stated that changes, such as automobiles replacing the horse drawn carriage; modern conveniences in home and industry; the advancement to satellites and the space age; explosion of world population; and today's weapons have a great effect on the lives of a Christian.

Scripture was read by Mrs. Deloris Wolfe, Mrs. William Cline, Mrs. Harry Hosler Sr. and Mrs. Warner.

The program closed with the song "For God So Loved the World" and prayer by Mrs. Carothers.

Mrs. Grace Goff was the prize winner. Refreshments were served to 17 members and three guests, Francis Davis, David DeLong and Donnie Flowers by the hostesses.

Cabinet Wives: Proud Women Phyllis Dillon Glad To Stay At Her Home in Washington

HOME AGAIN — The same Washington house will be home for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dillon, who switched cabinets.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The wife of a Republican who will be in the new Democratic cabinet, Phyllis Dillon, is delighted that she and her husband will be remaining in Washington.

Since Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon is the new Secretary of the Treasury, they will keep the big white house they bought in Washington in 1957. They also have a Florida home at Hobe Sound with pool, tennis court and beach house on the ocean side.

Mrs. Dillon is petite, slim, young looking, and has an air of chic and careful grooming.

She was a popular hostess in Paris when her husband was ambassador to France and has traveled much with him on his state department duties.

They have two daughters and four grandchildren—Mrs. Joan Moseley, 26, Paris, who has a daughter, Joan, 6; and Phyllis (Mrs. Mark Collins), 27, of Far Hills, N. J., whose children are Frances S., Mark 4, and Clarence Douglas Dillon, who was born last September.

Mrs. Dillon was born Phyllis Chess Ellsworth in South Bend, Ind., Aug. 3, 1919. She attended Rogers Hall in Lowell, Mass., and Miss Porter's in Farmington, Conn., and lived for several years with her family on the north shore, Manchester, Mass., then in Boston.

In Boston she belonged to the Junior League and the Vincent Club.

She met Dillon at her own apartment when some friends brought him to tea. They were married in Boston March 10, 1931, in a big wedding. Since her marriage, Mrs. Dillon has been the bill payer and check book balancer for the family finances.

"I do worry if I am a few pennies off in my monthly accounts," she says. "It's a matter of pride to find that last penny and make my accounts balance."

About his new job, she says, "My husband has agreed to serve as Secretary of the Treasury in the next administration because he feels, as Senator Kennedy stated, that the ability of the United States is essential to our national security. I am so pleased to continue living in this city which I obviously love and enjoy."

The Dillons collect rare and new china, visit art galleries and play golf together.

Easy Fitting Is Trend in Spring Fashion

NEW YORK (AP) — the big fashion question for spring is, "Is your wardrobe suit-able?"

Can you put two and one together and come up with an easy fitting skirt, blouse and jacket combination? Does adding one and one result in a dress topped with a light coat lined in a fabric that matches?

The nation's fashion trend setters have created the biggest coat, suit and costume dress year in American haute couture history.

It will be a coat and suit spring designers say, because the wily busy women work, play and travel demands it. In a matter of hours you travel at jet speed from one climate to another. And it is all in a day's work or play for you to move through a variety of social situations without an occasion to change clothes. Costumes let you be flexible.

This spring's coats and jacket silhouettes are diversified. In straight-line suits belted and box jackets and anywhere from a few inches from the skirt hem to the waist. Or they are moderately or very full. Whatever the silhouette, ease is the characteristic that all toppers share.

Coats, suits and jackets, too, rely on textures and their patterns for the costume's personality.

Jumbo checks, hand-loomed plaids, and monotone woollens, polished fleeces and ribbed worsteds emblazoned with color brighten up the spring picture. Even suits with classic lines make a new appearance in meshy, spongy, lacy or shaggy textures.

Giddy, gaudy prints combining the most unlikely hues appear as blouses, reappear in flashes as jacket lining, and or top them all as turbans and wide-brimmed cloches.

The separate spring costumes do not mix well outside the immediate family. They are too happily matched to each other.

Fortunately, variety in style is so great that there is something for every figure and taste. If it suits you, it's suit-able.

Mrs. Strous Hosts Shower

Mrs. Rodger Ricevuto, Columbus, was guest of - honor at a stork shower recently given by Mrs. Ralph Strous in her Route 4 home.

Gifts were placed on a small table decorated in pink and green. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Darrell Carter, Miss Hazel Dumm, Mrs. Judd Poling and Mrs. Ricevuto.

Guests included Miss Hazel Dumm, Mrs. Marvin Dumm, Mrs. David Dumm, Mrs. Darrell Carter, Jeffrey and Bruce Alan, Mrs. Dale Gifford and Bradley.

Mrs. Edward Dumm, Mrs. Judd Poling, Mrs. Ruth Dumm and Mrs. Edgar McClure, Circleville; Mrs. Bernard Carle, Grove City; and Mrs. Dominec Ricevuto, Columbus.

Those who sent gifts but were unable to attend were Mrs. Cleve Dumm and Mrs. Carl Green, Columbus.

Ralph Strous was host to the men at the home of his father, Elmer Strous.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You'll Make It!

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 15 and have gone with boys for two years. I didn't realize until reading your column that boys like to be seen in public only with girls they respect. It sure hit home to me. Boys would ask to meet me "later". They would take me out to park, but never ask me to go any place where we could be seen. Your warning came too late for me, but it woke me up.

I am trying to improve my reputation. But how can you refuse to park with a boy once you've parked with him? Am I hopeless?

TRYING TO IMPROVE

DEAR TRYING: You are certainly not "hopeless." You've already conquered the first two steps in self-improvement. (1) Recognizing the need for improvement. (2) determining to improve. Now, flatly refuse to park. If the boy seems surprised, tell him you've changed your way of living. Then, look ahead to a rosier future. Rome wasn't built in a day, and neither is a good reputation.

DEAR ABBY: In a December column you quoted "A.R.K." who said, "more wild birds and game starve to death or are killed by weather or other wild animals than by hunters... an arrow or a bullet is a merciful death."

Following that logic, more people are killed by automobiles than by hunters. If an arrow or a bullet is a merciful death, the hunters should shoot one another. And I hope they do.

O. G. K.

DEAR ABBY: My husband shaves before he goes to work in the morning. But by the time he gets home in the evening his whiskers are a quarter of an inch long. By bedtime they have grown another quarter of an inch and are stiff as needles. How does a wife get affectionate with a porcupine?

FREIDA

DEAR FREIDA: Very, very carefully.

DEAR ABBY: Our problem may sound trivial to you, but it is driving us wild. Our neighbors are nice people, but they have two teen-aged boys who play basketball between their house and ours. They have a net on their garage which is only a stone's throw from our window. My husband is retired and he and I are home all day. As soon as these boys come home from school, all we hear is "thump, thump, thump." When it gets dark, they turn on the yard lights and play at night. They know no season. They shoot for baskets and dribble 12 months of the year.

It may seem like a foolish reason to sell a house, but what else can we do? We hate to report this to their mother.

THE NEIGHBORS

DEAR NEIGHBORS: Ask the boys and they can't find another place for their net, offer to buy them a new one and even to put it up for them. Teen-agers respond quicker to direct, frank complaints than to those routed through their parents.

Longs Feted At Dinner

Miss Florence Long, near Williamsport, was hostess at a turkey dinner recently honoring her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Long, on their 41st wedding anniversary which was January 12.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Coey and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan Nancy, Ned, and Bruce, all of Orient;

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Reid, Gerald and Janet, Mt. Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Long, Gene, and Joyce Ellen and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Long, all of Williamsport.

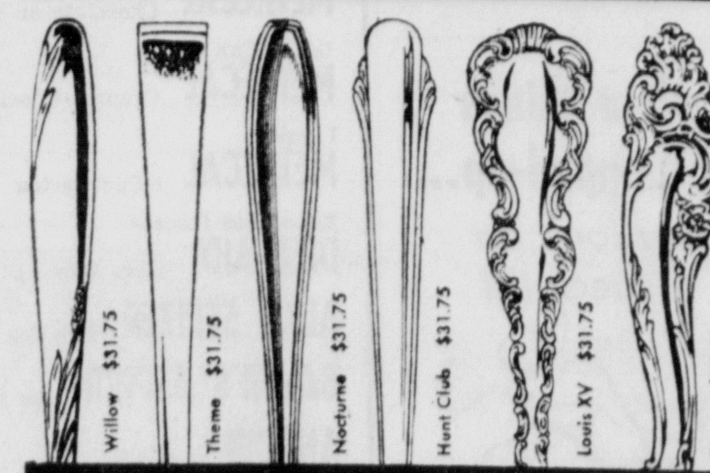

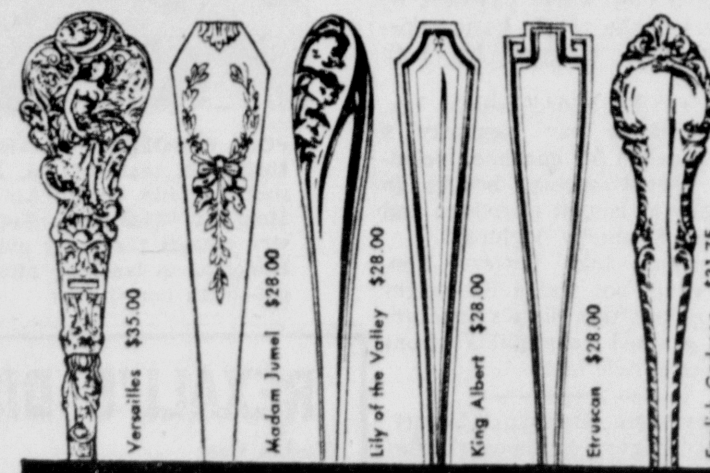

Ever heat grape juice with spices? Nice served in heavy footed goblets.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Catching Colds

- Repeat Smallpox
- Nicotine
- Arthritis
- Corns

Q. Does chilling after a bath cause colds?

A. No, according to some authorities. Others say that chilling lowers resistance, thus permitting the cold virus (if present in the breathing passages) to become active and produce symptoms of a cold. While it is difficult to prove or disprove the "chilling" theory, proper drying and a reasonable waiting period before going out may have some precautionary value.

Q. Can smallpox occur in a person who has been successfully vaccinated?

A. Yes. Contrary to the general belief, smallpox can occur in one-time vaccinated persons. Protection may last as long as ten years in countries where smallpox is rare but in places where smallpox epidemics still occur, yearly vaccination is needed to solidly protect against the disease.

Q. Is there more nicotine in cigarette tobacco than in pipe tobacco?

A. American cigarette tobacco contains, on the average, about 2.5 per cent nicotine. Some blends may have as little as 1.5 per cent. Pipe tobacco contains about 2 per cent; cigar tobacco about 1.4 per cent.

Q. Will hormone shots given directly into the joint cure arthritis?

A. No. There is no real cure for arthritis. However, injections into affected joints, when indicated and properly given, can bring temporary relief.

Q. Do corns or calluses ever turn into cancer?

A. No. It is your right and privilege to have your prescription filled at a pharmacy of your choice. Choose wisely on the basis of professional competency and price fairness.

Lawrence Welk Finally Hits Million-Copy Record List

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For once, Lawrence Welk was speechless. He was lunching at the Brown Derby when Dot Record chief Randy Wood walked in bearing a gift. It was a handsomely framed gold record of "Calcutta," signifying the first time Welk had entered the charmed circle of million sellers.

The music man sputtered, grinned, then beamed. All he could manage to say was: "Congratulations me."

He recovered enough to explain his joy: "I've been trying for this ever since I started recording, back in 1928. I remember I paid $400 to a recording outfit for 2,000 or 3,000 records and we sold them ourselves when we played dates."

Early in the war, he almost caught fire with a record, but shortage of shellac nipped the hit in the bud. Even after he became a TV sensation, he couldn't get close to a million singles. How did he do it?

He pointed toward Wood, the young Tennessean who branched out from a one-man operation to a multimillion-dollar enterprise.

"Randy called me at dinner one night and asked me to drop by his house," Welk related. "He played me a record of a number he wanted me to do. I tried to think of a way I could tell him I thought it was terrible and still not hurt his feelings."

Wood prevailed and Welk recorded "Last Date," a rumbling instrumental with the unmistakable thump of rock 'n' roll. It sold 300,000. Then came "Calcutta," ta," with a beat that even Elvis could pulsate to. Wood predicts it will go two million. The "Calcutta" album is expected to hit 500,000.

He's still a bit dazed by it all. "When I rode in the Hollywood Christmas parade, the teen-agers were yelling for me—imagine!" said Welk, who is more accustomed to adulation of the elders.

FBI Captures Man for Ohio Bank Robbery

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Oswald Welker, 32, charged with taking $6,950 in a holdup of the East Toledo Branch of the Lucas County bank last Thursday, was arrested by FBI agents Tuesday in a restaurant at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Edward E. Hargett, agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, said Welker, formerly of Toledo, was apprehended on a federal warrant charging bank robbery. He was to appear before a U. S. Commissioner in West Palm Beach later.

Hargett said Welker had no money when he was arrested but that FBI agents and Toledo police have recovered $4,800 of the bank loot from Welker's estranged wife and a brother in Toledo. The pair have not been charged in connection with the holdup, Hargett added.

Toledo police said four bank employees have identified Welker through pictures as the man who took the money from Mrs. Theresa Wisniewski, a teller, and then warned employees, "Don't ring any bells," as he dashed out the door.

Hargett said Welker arrived in West Palm Beach Friday and had been staying in a hotel there.

Missing Cache Found Cashed

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—Joe Mazza Jr., Mount Vernon restaurant owner, reported to police Nov. 11 that a bag containing $5,294 in endorsed checks and cash has been stolen from his establishment.

During an all-out effort to recover the money, Mazza paid out $275 in advertising bills to track down the identity of payroll and personal checks that were in the bag.

Then Monday, Mazza, red of face, found the bag, cash and all, under the bottom drawer of a small filing cabinet at the restaurant.

Today he was busy making apologies all around.

Sales Tax Returns Due January 31

All persons having Ohio Vendors' licenses are required to file their next semi-annual sales tax returns by January 31, 1961, for the period July 1 to December 31, 1960, according to announcement today by the Department of Taxation, Division of Sales, Excise and Highway Use Taxes.

Returns mailed to the Treasurer of State should be postmarked not later than January 31, to avoid a $1 a day charge for delinquent filing.

To assist vendors with these returns, the Department of Taxation has arranged to have an examiner stationed at the Pickaway County Court House January 31, 1961.

Vendors seeking assistance from examiners will be required to present all records necessary to substantiate the figures to be reported, such as a copy of their return for the previous period, a record of gross and exempt sales and a record of taxable sales of 31 cents or over for the period July 1 to December 31, 1960.

VENDORS will also be required to bring copies of their purchase orders showing the amounts of stamps purchased during the last half of 1960.

Vendors are no longer required to have sales tax returns sworn to before a notary public or a representative of the Department of Taxation. The vendor, however, is required to sign the declaration on the return that the information given is true. When completed, all returns must be filed with or mailed to the Treasurer of State, P. O. Box 1799, Columbus, Ohio. If a deficiency is shown on the vendor's return, remittance either by check, draft or money order, made payable to the Treasurer of State in the amount of tax due, should accompany the return.

Ankrom Lists Committees For K of P

Allen Ankrom, chancellor commander of Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias, has named his committees for 1961.

Members of the various committees and their duties, chairman of each listed first, are:

Membership — Cecil Andrews, Robert Barnes and Frank Woodward Jr.; conduct continuous inquiries and campaigns for acquisition of new members and the reinstatement of former members.

Attendance — Robert Ferguson, Walter Leist, Russell Lane; encourage attendance at regular and special meetings and communicate with members whose attendance is unsatisfactory.

Delinquent Members — Raymond Reichelderfer, Vaughn Reichelderfer and Allen Ankrom; contact members in arrears and request them to pay their indebtedness to the lodge.

Entertainment — Lloyd Fisher, Charles Allison, William Canter; prepare and manage lodge programs through social activities, the object being for entertainment and instruction of members.

Public Relations — Irvin Reid, Azel A. Laughlin and T. M. Glick; engage the services of the lodge in such public affairs as seem worthy of the order.

Publicity — Paul Smallwood, Cecil Andrews and O. E. Barr; inform the public of activity, ideals, objects and achievements of the lodge and order generally.

Proficiency — Robert Denman, T. M. Glick and George Mast; instruct and examine initiates, direct all teachings in the secret and ritualistic work and instruct members in the objects and ideals of the order.

Fellowship — Vaughn Reichelderfer, Azel A. Laughlin and Allen Ankrom; visit the sick, arrange for funerals when requested and visit those in sorrow.

Finance — Marvin Cook, J. Jenkins and Ernest Young; prepare the budget, approve all bills for payment, audit the books and have general supervision over financial affairs unless the lodge otherwise directs.

Youth Welfare — Robert Barnes, Robert Ferguson and Nolan Sims; sponsor youth programs, cooperate with churches, schools, courts and other civic organizations in development and maintenance of moral character and promote similar programs presented by the Supreme Lodge Youth Commission. Chancellor Commander Ankrom urged all committee chairmen and members to be aware of their duties and put them into operation during the coming year.

MRS. KENNEDY'S—What Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy's inaugural gowns will look like still is a secret, but these sketches in Women's Wear Daily, a Fairchild publication, probably come pretty close. For the ball, the slim Gavenchish silhouette, with lace embroidered top. It is said she put the Bergdorf Goodman dress together from sketches in the French fashion magazine L'Officiel. The other is Oleg Cassini's pre-inaugural gala, in heavy white silk with straight silhouette. It is worn with 20-button white kid gloves.

Ashville-Harrison Schools To Present 'South Pacific'

"South Pacific", a musical by Rogers and Hammerstein, will be presented at the Ashville High School January 30, under the direction of William Pangburn, music director of the school.

Over 140 students, both instrumental and vocal, will participate in the presentation. Students were selected from Ashville, Harrison, Walnut and Scioto Twp. Schools.

The cast includes 55 students and 25 will perform with the orchestra. Another 55 students joined together to build sets and work with the mechanics of the production.

"South Pacific" is being financially sponsored by the Ashville Harrison Band Boosters Club. An advance ticket sale is being conducted by the group and tickets may be purchased from any member.

The annual productions are not money-making projects. The objectives are to offer students an opportunity to participate in an extra-curricular activity and offer to the public local entertainment at a reasonable price.

Freemasonry Leader Dies in Akron at 83

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Dr. McMillan Hamilton Lichter, 83, retired minister and nationally known leader in freemasonry, died here Tuesday after a long illness. He was grand prior of the Supreme Council of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry for the Northern Jurisdiction of the United States.

Dr. Lichter had been a minister in Methodist churches in Pittsburgh, Olean, N.Y., St. Louis, Baltimore and Cleveland. He was a former grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts and of Ohio. A native of Butler, Pa., he lived here the last two years.

Innocence Is Claimed In Bookie Operation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John J. Coury, 47, of Upper Arlington, pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court Tuesday to participating in an alleged nationwide bookie operation. Investigators said they found in Coury's home 13 telephones and horse race lists.

Judge Mell G. Underwood deferred sentence in two other cases in which the defendants pleaded guilty. Daniel Meadows, 60, of Columbus, admitted operation of an illicit still, and Donald Lee Brammer admitted embezzling $978 from the Columbus bank where he was employed.

Steel Pickup Is Threatened

Automakers' Cutback Could Wipe Out Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Cutbacks by automakers in orders for steel "may wipe out much of the expected recovery in January," Iron Age Magazine said today.

The Jan. 11 issue of the weekly metalworking magazine forecast a 10 per cent rise in January steel shipments over December. A pickup in orders from general steel users was cited.

The publication said the bad news from Detroit began to threaten the February-March outlook but added a qualification.

"Any pickup in automotive sales would result in immediate reinstatement of set-back orders," it said. "However, a major rescheduling of automotive tonnage is at best a hope, not an expectation."

The general improvement in orders since the first of the year reflects a shifting balance in the steel market, the magazine said.

As compared with late 1960, mills with a broad range of customers are favored by the shift, and mills with heavy automotive buyers are adversely affected.

The auto industry's consumption of steel last year reached a new high percentage in the first 11 months of 1960, with hot-rolled, cold-rolled and galvanized sheets accounting for 35.8 per cent of all steel shipments.

The magazine said 12-month figures will show that 1960 was second only to 1955 in shipments of the three types of steel.

As against adverse influences "tempering early-year enthusiasm," Iron Age cited these good signs:

A seasonal pickup in tinplate, gains in seamless tubing for oil operators and reports of better business from warehouse, particularly in the Midwest, and a 15 per cent pickup over December at some large service centers.

Sleepy Eye Man Just Going Home

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Maybe it wasn't too unusual that Clinton E. Jennings, 36, was so sleepy-eyed when he arrived in this city late at night.

Jennings was seeking a place to nap in the vicinity of a downtown business building when he was arrested as a suspicious person. After being questioned at city jail, he was given a cell to sleep in.

The next morning police released him so he could continue his trek home—to Sleepy Eye, Minn.

The ant has two stomachs, one for itself and the other a kind of "social stomach" in which it stores food to share with other ants. Food exchange is a common practice among ants.

DRUNK TEST ON SPOT—Vienna, Austria, policeman holds up a pair of gimmicks they're using to test drivers for drunkenness right on the hazy spot. A chemical in the small glass tube changes color if the breath exceeds the "uber" alcoholic content. A drunk driver can get jailed for $1,250 in Austria.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A cold front pushed southward into Ohio during the night, shifting winds to northwesterly over northern Ohio and bringing snow flurries to the northeast counties.

Temperatures by early morning today ranged from 27 in Dayton and 29 in Columbus under clear skies to 36 at Bellaire, where it was overcast.

Cleveland reported snow flurries and a 30-degree reading.

Skies will be mostly cloudy over the state today as the cold front moves southward, and snow flurries will be general over the eastern counties. Colder air will push southward on Thursday accompanied by snow flurries.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will average 4-10 degrees below normal. Normal high 35 north to 38 south; normal low 20-23. Colder Thursday and Friday, a little warmer Saturday, colder Sunday and Monday. Occasional snow flurries throughout the period north, rain or snow south tonight and Thursday and again about Sunday night or Monday.

DiSalle Denies Mercy To Cleveland Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has withheld commutation from James Rutherford, 44, serving a life sentence for the 1935 murder of a Cleveland gasoline station attendant. DiSalle said Tuesday, "We do not feel the inmate has demonstrated an ability to now take his place in society." Rutherford was convicted in the slaying of William Shel-

3 Grandmothers, Ex-WAC Help Write Ohio's Laws

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three grandmothers and a former WAC major help make Ohio's laws.

All upperclassmen in the General Assembly, the state's four-lady legislators have 22 years of lawmaking experience among them—and quite a lot of practical background in everyday living.

Clara Weisenborn, svelte, brown-eyed and capable, is mistress of a 168-year-old farm near Dayton and grinds out a six-days-a-week newspaper column.

Ethel Swanbeck, white-haired and gracious, is a Huron physician's wife and former school teacher.

Anne Donnelly, veteran politician and proud grandmother (she holds the record of 16 among the quartet), runs a Cleveland real estate business.

Bernice McKenzie, tall, slim and brainy, is a graduate attorney, former WAC officer and former two-term councilwoman—at-large in Canton.

All four are pocketbook-conscious. All four have definite ideals about needed legislation. All four think more women should get into politics.

For them, it was comparatively easy.

Five terms ago, Mrs. Weisenborn, dean of the quartet in legislative service, was informed by the Montgomery County chairwoman that her petitions had been circulated and signed, all ready for notarization.

"I spent $51 that first time, gave away some 'thimbles,'" she laughed. "I haven't spent a dime for campaign material since."

Her newspaper column, a 19-year-feature of the Dayton Journal-Herald, keeps her name in the public mind. So does her garden, which attracts hundreds of summer visitors, and her past and present activities in church work, PTA, Altrusa Club and other groups.

Her husband, Herbert, is an insurance man and farmer. She has two sons, Don and Howard, and four grandchildren.

Like Mrs. Swanbeck, enjoying her first committee chairmanship this session, Mrs. Weisenborn will gavel the House Health Committee to order.

She has a pet piece of legislation—to curb the sale of "goof balls and bennies"—this session and she believes more broadly. "We haven't paid enough attention to health. If we don't have strong, healthy people to drive on these new highways, use these new schools, we're defeating our whole purpose."

Named "outstanding woman of the year" in 1959 by the Ohio

Federation of Women's Clubs, of which she is past president, Mrs. Swanbeck practices what she preaches—that legislating is "a full-time job."

At her desk in the House early Monday morning during sessions, she drives back home to Huron late Thursday or early Friday.

Enormously proud that her vote this time for her fourth term, was "the largest yet," she keeps Erie Countians informed on legislation by a weekly column in the Erie County Reporter, a weekly radio broadcast, and a Saturday "Session for Constituents" at the Erie County Courthouse.

Wife of Dr. Carl E. Swanbeck, physician and surgeon, she has three sons and 12 grandchildren. In her freshman term, Mrs. Swanbeck served on the House Education Committee during the extensive changes in state school support and organization. It was her interest in education and welfare that drew her into politics.

"I was chairman of the Huron County Red Cross during the war—visited mental hospitals and schools, learned a great deal about welfare problems. It was a challenge so great I felt the county needed a full-time representative."

This session, she will serve as chairman of the House Public Welfare Committee.

Thomas Jefferson took the presidential oath in 1801 in the old Senate chamber in Washington, because it was the only part of the Capitol that had been completed.

Seiberling Chiefs Delay Meeting

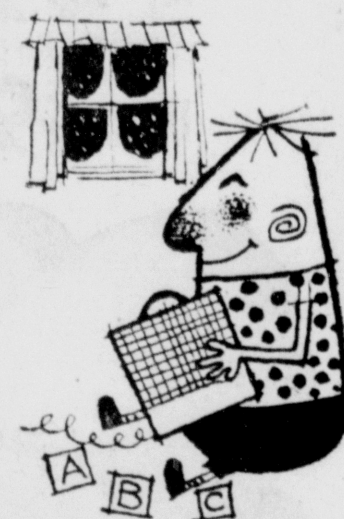

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Seiberling Rubber Co. directors have put off the annual meeting that was scheduled for April 24 until May 15, saying they believe the later date will make possible greater stockholder representation.

A clash between the company's present management and Edward O. Lamb of Toledo, who lost a proxy fight for control of Seiberling in 1956, is anticipated at this year's meeting.

Lamb, who has four of the 15 directors and seeks to increase his board representation as a result of purchases of 45,000 shares of Seiberling stock earlier last month was not represented at Monday's meeting of directors.

Sees Red

WARSAW, Ind. (AP)—Red flags aren't the only thing which anger bulls. A 1,100-pound bull escaped from his pasture and battered a parked red airplane at the Warsaw Community Airport to the tune of $500 damage.

Cincy Cagers Win Again as Dayton Loses

Detroit Trips Flyers; BeeGees Edge Kent in Mid-American Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cincinnati continued proving it can win without the Big O, Dayton walked into a rebounding Detroit team and a raft of thrillers highlighted the Ohio basketball front Tuesday night.

The Queen City's Bearcats notched their 12th victory in 15 games, scrapping—in every sense of the word—to a 64-53 conquest of Duquesne. Two of Cincinnati's standouts, Bob Wiesenbahn and Paul Hogue, wound up the game on the bench. Wiesenbahn was bounced for fighting with the Dukes' Clyde Arnold and Hogue left with five fouls.

Arnold, Hogue and Cincy's Tom Thacker shared scoring honors, each getting 16 points.

Dayton made the mistake of being the first to venture onto Detroit's home court after he Titans had had their 24-game home winning streak broken. The Flyers, who now have a 9-4 mark, never saw the lead, losing 71-57. Hitting on only 24 per cent of its shots, Dayton was behind 34-22 at the half and from there the Titans coasted home. Charlie North scored 23 points for Detroit, Gary Roggenbuck had 15 for Dayton.

Elsewhere around the scene four games were decided by eight points.

Bowling Green's Pat Haley grabbed a loose ball with three seconds remaining, dropped in a basket from around the free throw line and gave the BeeGees a 58-56 Mid-American Conference victory over Kent State.

A sophomore from Lima, Dick Cassie, sank a 27-foot set shot with seven seconds remaining in overtime to give Capital a 61-59 win over Oberlin in the Ohio Conference.

And Cedarville and Rio Grande saw substantial leads almost evaporate in the closing minutes but managed to hold on to victories—Cedarville 70-68 over Findlay in the Mid-Ohio loop and Rio 68-66 over Kentucky Christian.

In the other games Muskingum swamped Western Reserve 79-59 and Westminster (Pa.) dumped Baldwin-Wallace 73-59.

The top individual scoring effort of the night was Don Benadum's 32 points for Muskingum. The leading scorer in the Ohio Conference, Merrill Shanks of Oberlin, also fared well, tallying 21 in the loss to Capital.

Wittenberg Tackle Gets Dallas Contract

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League have signed Bill Franta of Mansfield, Ohio. The 6-foot-4, 250-pound tackle played his college football at Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio. He was a free agent.

HE'S BACK—Leo Durocher, famed former manager of the then New York Giants and the then Brooklyn Dodgers, is back again with the Dodgers, this time as third base coach. Dodger Manager Walter Alton chats with Durocher as "The Lip" tries on the uniform in L.A.

HELPING HAND—Roman Gabriel, the North Carolina State quarterback star who was among the nation's leading passers, goes on the defense here as he helps his baby son out of a typical predicament at Raleigh, N.C.

Weather Plays Big Role In Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Art Wall captured the 1959 Crosby Golf Tournament in near perfect weather and the same conditions could exist this week for the $50,000 event.

"You'll see some low scores if this weather keeps up," Wall said after a practice round over the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course. "The weather makes quite a difference here."

Although he didn't keep formal score, Wall said he was a few strokes under par for 18 holes. Ken Venturi of San Francisco battled rain and blustering winds on his final 18 holes last year and won the 72-hole tournament with a score of 286. Wall won the year before with 279.

Art Doering, the veteran from Pittsburgh, paced qualifiers Tuesday who battled for the last 18 places in the field of 150 pros and 150 amateurs who start the tournament Thursday. Doering fired a 3-under-par 69 on the Pebble Beach course.

The pros pair with the amateurs for tournament play with two divisions—the pro-amateur and the pro individuals.

Other qualifiers Tuesday include Tommy Aaron, Gainesville, Ga.; Milon Marusic, St. Louis, and Bill Ezinnicki, North Redding, Mass., all 71; Fred Wampler, St. Louis 72; Tom Talkington, Ypsilanti, Mich., and Houston LeClair, Birmingham, Ala., 73; Phil Wiechman, Grand Rapids, Mich., and Peter Mazur, Montauk, N.Y., 74.

The 18th spot will be decided today in a sudden death playoff between 11 golfers who deadlocked at 75.

Elias Is Selected As Virginia Coach

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Bill Elias takes over today as head football coach at the University of Virginia—without any idea of how long he'll last but with confidence he can lift the Cavaliers from the depths of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

"They say it just can't be done," the one-time Martins Ferry, Ohio, high school athlete said of the possibility of reforming the team that has lost its last 28 games.

"Like the idiot I am," he added, "I think I'll try it."

Thus, Elias, 36, brings to Virginia the same cockiness he took to George Washington a year ago. Without any visible means of improvement, he turned the Colonials' 1-8 record of 1959 into a 5-3-1 slate for the 1960 season and was named Southern Conference coach of the year.

Whitey Ford has appeared in 14 World Series games for the Yankees. His record is seven victories and four defeats.

The Yankees hit successive home runs 13 times last season. In six of the games, Roger Maris was involved with a four bagger.

OSU Now Alone As Unbeaten

DePaul Is Spilled By Notre Dame '5'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The home court advantage, important in basketball, has chopped DePaul's Blue Demons off the major undefeated list, leaving only Ohio State.

Notre Dame's Irish spilled DePaul's unbeaten string at 12 Tuesday night, 61-58.

John Tully was triggerman for the Irish, hitting two quick field goals as part of an 8-0 burst that shattered a 42-all tie with about 8 minutes remaining.

DePaul, ranked seventh in the new Associated Press poll, thus suffered the road-game pitfall that had struck Bradley, Louisville and Vanderbilt from the unbeaten ranks last week.

Ohio State's beat-'em Bucks won their last 17 games including 12 straight this year as they rumble toward defense of their NCAA championship.

Cincinnati (12-3) stretched its winning streak to seven, 64-53 over Duquesne; Detroit won its 10th in 15 tries, 71-57 over Dayton; Auburn (8-2) whipped Florida State 74-67; Memphis State (12-1) routed Louisiana College 96-39; and Western Kentucky fanned its Ohio Valley Conference lead, 88-75 over Tennessee Tech in other major games.

Little Major Carl hit 16 points for DePaul, but Notre Dame had little trouble with sophomore M. C. Thompson, who had scored 24 points when the Demons ended Louisville's 13-game streak last Saturday. Thompson scored only five points and hit just one field goal.

Virginia Military hit 33 of 38 free throw attempts for the difference in a 93-77 Southern Conference victory over George Washington. Neither will worry the league leaders. VMI has a 2-6 Conference mark and is 5-10 overall. G-W, now 2-3 in the league, lost its eighth in 11 games.

Amanda Tops Reynoldsburg In 54-45 Tilt

Amanda - Clearcreek added another victory to their season's record as they defeated a Reynoldsburg five last night in a 54-45 tilt. Amanda knotted the score at half-time 23-23, but broke loose to gain a five-point lead in the third quarter and picked up another four-point gain to hand visiting Reynoldsburg a 54-45 decision.

Williams and Davis shared scoring honors in last night's battle with 13 points each.

Reynoldsburg's Grayem lead the visitors' individual scoring with a total of 20 points.

Amanda - Clearcreek also defeated the Reynoldsburg reserves in a 63-33 cage skirmish.

Amanda-Clearcreek
Anderson 0-6-6; Gussett 4-2-10; Williams 6-1-13; J. Brown 1-0-2; L. Young 2-0-4; Davis 6-1-13; D. Young 3-0-6.

Reynoldsburg
Grayem 8-4-20; Thompson 3-2-8; Gierhart 0-3-3; Borden 4-0-8; Parsons 3-0-6.

Pro Cage League Plans Expansion

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The National Basketball Association, following the lead of big league baseball, has expanded to 10 teams with the addition of Chicago and Pittsburgh, but NBA President Maurice Podoloff is taking nothing for granted as far as the situation in Pittsburgh is concerned.

"I'm going to Pittsburgh on Monday to finalize all the details," said Podoloff today. "They told us they are in. Now, we want to see how ready they are to go."

The Pittsburgh entry is backed by John Harris, an ice show impresario. Harris is also the head of the Pittsburgh ice hockey club which returns to the American League next season.

Big O Leads West Pros to Cage Victory

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Oscar Robertson neatly summed up in four little words today the West's record-breaking victory over the East in the National Basketball Association all-star game.

"We beat 'em good," said Cincinnati's "Big O," voted the most valuable player in Tuesday night's dream game the War Memorial Auditorium. The West, a 6-point underdog, won 153-131.

Robertson scored 23 points and had a record 14 assists. Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovellette, both of St. Louis, and Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, also starred for the winners.

All four pitched in during a furious assault that carried the Westerners to a 47-19 lead at the first-quarter mark. The closest the East came after that was 14 points, 131-117, midway in the fourth quarter.

The usual high-scoring Wilt Chamberlain and Bob Cousy were held far below their average. Philadelphia's Chamberlain had only 12 points. Cousy, the veteran Boston forward, had only four.

Boston, Detroit Added To Cincy Grid Card

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati, under new football coach Chuck Stulley, has completed its 1961 schedule with addition of Detroit and Boston College, the Cincinnati Enquirer reported today.

Boston College replaces Marquette which dropped intercollegiate football, and Detroit fills in for College of the Pacific, which gave up major football competition in favor of schools nearer its campus.

Wally Post Is Ninth Redleg To Sign Pact

CINCINNATI (AP)—Veteran outfielder Wally Post has signed for '61 with the Cincinnati Reds, the ninth on the team to do so.

General Manager Bill DeWitt reported the agreement Tuesday night.

Post, 31, was traded to Philadelphia in 1957 but returned to the Reds last summer. He batted .282 for the Reds with 19 homers and 50 RBI.

Buckskin Nips Laurelville In Overtime

Visiting Laurelville Wildcats bowed to Buckskin cagers last night in a single overtime period with a final score of 68-66.

Wildcats trailed at intermission by a 4-point margin, 27-23. End of the third period showed a 43-37 scoreboard still in favor of Buckskin. The Wildcats knotted the score as official time ran out, 66-66.

Buckskin's Speakman sunk two free throws to hand their visitors a 68-66 defeat.

Laurelville cage squad had four men to enter scores of two figures. Bob Febes led with a total of 16 points, scored mostly on drives; Larry Unger, in the runner-up position, with 14; Bob Johnson with 13 and Max Young with 12.

Buckskin's Johnson capped scoring honors for the winning team with 24 marks, followed by Eberhart with 15 and Webb with 14.

Wildcat reserves returned home with a 40-35 victory.

Laurelville
Unger 3-4-14; Febes 4-8-16; Young 5-2-12; Hunt 2-0-4; Stahr 1-1-3; Johnson 6-1-17; Karshner 1-2-4.

Slugging Rookie Eyed by Cubs

'Whistlin' Willie' Has Bright Future

NEW YORK (AP)—The brightest rookie of the Chicago Cubs is a 22-year-old outfielder whom they call "Whistlin' Willie" from Whistler, Ala. He signs his meal checks "Billy Leo Williams."

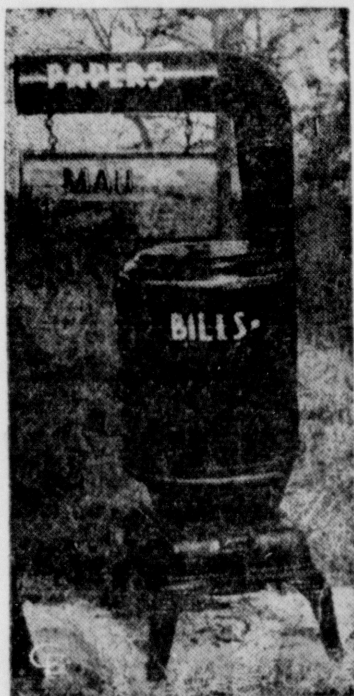

With Houston, where he played last year, he hit a number of tape measure homers around the American Association, including a 400-plus homer in the Buffs' Park.

He hit 28 doubles and 26 home runs and drove in 80 runs in 126 games en route to a .323 batting average.

Another highly regarded youngster is catcher Dick Bertell, a Houston grad who impressed in a brief whirl with the Cubs last fall. At Houston, he batted .289 in 114 games, showed a strong arm and was named catcher on the minor league all-star team.

The standout of the new pitchers, based on last year's averages, is Jack Curtis, a southpaw who won 19 and lost 8 at San Antonio, and led the Texas League in innings pitched with 257 and in complete games with 19. Other pitching hopefuls include Dick Burwell, who pitched at Waco last year, and Wayne Carlander, 19, a right-hander drafted from Odessa, where he had a 2-6 record.

The new outfielders include $100,000 bonus boy Danny Murphy, who was shipped to San Antonio after 31 games with the Cubs last season. At San Antonio, he batted .294 in 47 games.

LETTER PERFECT—Elmer L. Berg of Verona, Wis., seems to be making good use of an old wood burning stove, and the directions to the R.F.D. man look like good idea, too.

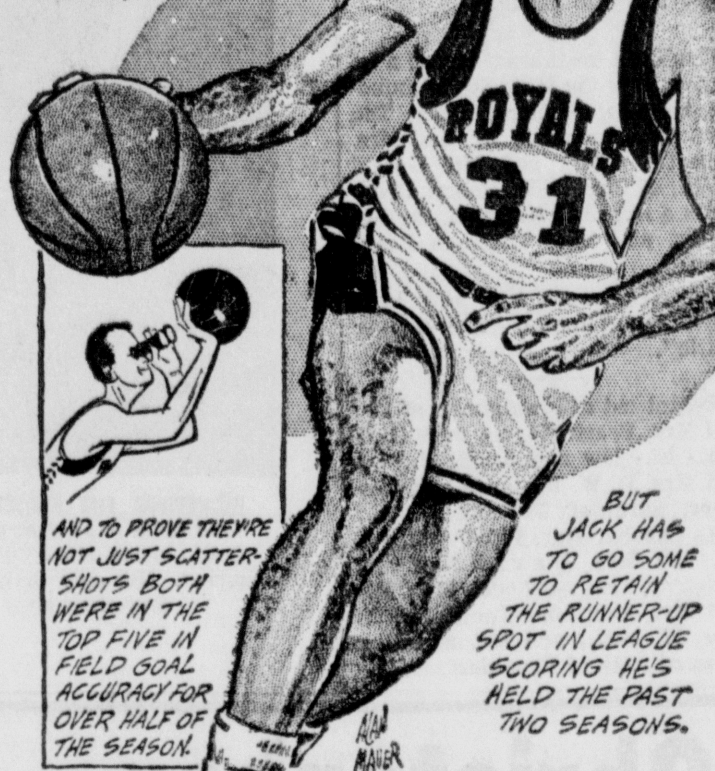

LAST NIGHT OUT?—Even as you and I, John F. Kennedy crams his coat into his seat with him as he takes in "Do Re Mi," a musical about the juke box industry, in New York in what looked like his last "night out" before ascending that lonely plateau, the presidency.

Wayne Hicks, rookie right wing of the Buffalo Bisons, is one of the few pro hockey players born in the United States. He's from Aberdeen, Wash.

ROYAL STAR, TOO - - - By Alan Mave

JACK TWYMAN, OF THE CINCINNATI ROYALS, WHO WITH TEAMMATE OSCAR ROBERTSON FORMS ONE OF THE HIGHEST SCORING DUOS IN THE GAME'S HISTORY.

AND TO PROVE THEY'RE NOT JUST SCATTER SHOTS BOTH WERE IN THE TOP FIVE IN FIELD GOAL ACCURACY FOR OVER HALF OF THE SEASON.

BUT JACK HAS TO GO SOME TO RETAIN THE RUNNER-UP SPOT IN LEAGUE SCORING HE'S HELD THE PAST TWO SEASONS.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—That long-awaited television event finally happened Tuesday night: The housewife picked the pile of clothes washed by brand X instead of the sponsor's washday product. But it was only done in the spirit of fun in the course of a slight, depressingly unoriginal revue hung on the well-explored theme of conformity.

As is usual when a TV show decides to be satiric, the most fertile field proved to be television itself. This was even more noticeable than usual on NBC's "Everybody's Doin' It."

Right after Art Carney, Alice Ghostly and the others kidded a number of familiar commercials, the sponsor's real message came up: A bowler knocked a pin wearing a wristwatch into a tub of water. This was just a little bit funnier than the sketches, although designed to sell wrist watches.

In addition to Madison Avenue and TV commercials, the satiric treatment was applied to Loretta Young and her famous entrance. "The Untouchables," TV's desire not to offend and the beat generation. None of this was up to the standards of last season's Carney shows, more's the pity.

The imminent return to the channels of the Great Gleason is causing a flurry at CBS. After a dry run of his new panel show earlier this week Jackie stormily announced he wanted bigger names among his game-players.

Originally chosen were Johnny Carson, Pat Carroll, Arthur Treacher and Patricia Cutts—at least two of whom are veterans of the panel show business. Carson recently proved an ingratiating and funny substitute for Tom Poston on "To Tell the Truth," and Pat Carroll in her pre-skinny days was such an asset to a panel show that the sponsor, maker of a diet aid, brought her back on the show after an initial decision that her decided curves were a poor advertisement.

Maybe the panel proved too funny for Jackie's delicate ego. Anyway, the maestro is planning a busy couple of days. He plans to tape two shows Thursday, another two on Friday—and then insists on a live show for the debut Friday night.

Recommended tonight: "The Prisoner of Zenda," CBS, 8:30-10 EST—Show of the Month adaptation of Anthony Hope's mythical kingdom classic, with Christopher Plummer, Farley Granger and Inger Stevens.

$23,000 in Checks Returned to Victim

CLEVELAND (AP)—A purse containing $23,000 in checks and securities stolen last Thursday from Mrs. Karl W. Winder of suburban Rocky River was returned to her Tuesday, but $200 in cash was missing. The purse was stolen as Mr. Winder was trying on a dress at a downtown store. Police said the purse was found under a bed in the furniture department of another store.

Isen Case Principals To Head Organization

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Two contractors involved in the Con Isen bribery case have been chosen to head the Clermont County Home Builders' Association. Carl Finn was named president and Gene Romohr vice president, it was announced Tuesday.

Isen, former county commissioner, was found guilty of taking $200 each from Finn and Romohr.

Why Did Some Americans Buy Gold Abroad?

Eisenhower Order To Force Yanks To Sell Their Hoard

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The average American, who hasn't held any gold coin or gold certificates since 1934, may be surprised to learn some of his neighbors do own gold—and just been told to get rid of it.

Where did they get it? Why do they keep it? And why do they want it instead of dollars they could spend at home?

Until President Eisenhower ordered them to stop buying and owning it abroad, they could legally buy gold bars in Canada, on the London free gold market, in Zurich, Switzerland, or in West Germany, France, the Netherlands and other European countries where buying and holding gold is regulated but not forbidden as it has been in the United States since 1934.

More often than not Americans paid more for their gold than the official U. S. price of $35 an ounce.

The Americans who bought gold had to keep it outside the United States because of our laws restricting most buying and owning of gold to use in industry and the arts. Americans could leave their gold with the Canadian banks that sold it to them, or in the care of European banks or gold brokers. In the case of the Swiss banks, their accounts could have the added secrecy of being known only by a number, rather than by the holder's name.

Why did they want gold? They couldn't bring it home. It cost them storage charges, while their dollars would have brought them interest if lent or profits if put in successful business enterprise.

Some probably bought gold in the belief that the official price would go up eventually and they would make a profit. Repeated denial by U. S. authorities that the price would be changed didn't budge some gold holders from this belief.

Many with business operations overseas found gold handy during the frequent currency crises in other lands in the postwar years. The metal was more stable and always acceptable. And often the local currencies fluctuated widely in relation to the U. S. dollar and sometimes couldn't be exchanged for it at all.

In recent months gold buying has been spurred by the repeated rumors that the steady loss of gold by the U. S. Treasury in the last three years might weaken the dollar's status and thus could lead to raising the official price.

The loss of gold has come about because for three years the American government and citizens have been sending more dollars abroad than they've been getting back. Foreign countries with surplus dollars have turned some of them into gold at the U. S. Treasury.

The Treasury, backed by most banking officials here and abroad, denies the dollar is in any danger or that devaluation through raising the price of gold is likely or necessary, or desirable.

The presidential order forbidding U. S. citizens to own gold abroad is a step to help halt the outflow of gold. In coincides with uncertainty as to how much spending the new Congress may authorize, and whether a big deficit could lower further the purchasing power of the dollar, and make devaluation a possibility, even if an improbability.

Eisenhower Gives His Farewell Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, in a sentimental presidential farewell, has asked for stability at home and voiced hope for the achievement of freedom for all who yearn for it in a troubled world.

To president-elect John F. Kennedy, he extended the wish for prosperous journeying through his years as chief executive.

Eisenhower spoke to the American people Tuesday night from his office which already is emptied of personal mementoes and relics of eight years in the White House. Friday he begins a new career as private citizen.

In the message carried over major radio and television networks, the President expressed regret that "so much remains to be done."

The old soldier said it is with a "definite sense of disappointment" that he lays down his responsibilities in the search for a workable disarmament plan. He described this as a continuing imperative.

Eisenhower said he wished he could say that lasting peace is in sight but it is not, adding

"crises there will continue to be." Looking into the years ahead, the President said America is pre-eminent in the world today, "the strongest, the most influential and most productive nation in the world."

But he warned: "As we peer into society's future, we—you and I, and our government—must avoid the impulse to live only for today, plundering, for our own ease and convenience, the precious resources of tomorrow."

He thanked his fellow Americans for the opportunities they had given him for public service in war and peace.

"I trust that in that service you will find some things worthy; as for the rest of it, I know you will find ways to improve performance in the future," he said.

It was toward the end of his farewell that Eisenhower seemed to come close to revealing his feelings. He removed his glasses, blinked several times and added that on Friday noon he would become a private citizen.

"I'm proud to do so," he said. "I look forward to it. Thank you and good night."

Nixon Packing To Move Out

GOP Chiefs Assure Future in Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon packed today for his departure from Washington with the assurances of GOP colleagues that future national service awaits him.

Nixon was said by aides to be undecided yet on which of several offers he will accept from law firms in California.

The Nixon home in a fashionable Washington residential district is up for sale. Whether his two daughters will remain in school here until June hasn't been decided.

Several of his Republican senatorial colleagues told Nixon Tuesday that though he may be leaving office Friday because of his narrow defeat in the presidential race, they expect him to be back in harness again.

Nixon is regarded as one of the likely contenders for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination. He has indicated he does not plan to run in 1962 for any California office.

Nixon touched off a 75-minute series of tributes—including some from Democrats — when he said goodbye to the Senate Tuesday.

The vice president left behind a gift of two three-minute glass sand timers. He said subsequent presiding officers could juggle them to enforce the three-minute rule on speakers in what the Senate knows as its "morning hour."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois praised Nixon as "one of the most distinguished vice presidents of this country."

Nixon sat quietly, twisting a ball of paper in his hand as others joined in tributes.

Young Alarmist

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — An 18-month-old girl wandering around a bank while her parents conducted their business, touched off a near panic by turning a dial on the safe and sounding a burglar alarm.

Kingston News Report

By Miss Margaret Thomas
Phone NI 2-3495

Becky Williams, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Williams, had an appendectomy at Chillicothe Hospital last Friday. She is doing fine and will probably be home in a few days.

Mr. Ralph A. Francis, of Vandalia, former superintendent of Kingston Schools, was a business visitor here on Saturday, and called on a few friends.

Announcement was made recently of the engagement of Miss Clara Ann Easterday daughter of Mrs. Ernest Easterday, of the Charleston Pike, and the late Mr. Easterday, to Mr. Roger E. Minor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Minor of Kingston.

The wedding is to be solemnized Saturday afternoon, January 28, at the Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Church in Kingston.

Mr. Minor is engaged in farming and his bride-elect is employed at the Citizens National Bank in Chillicothe.

SATURDAY evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Heffner were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Etter, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lightner, Mrs. Lois Jones, and Forrest Kreisel.

After dinner, the evening was spent in playing Euchre.

Mr. and Mrs. William Meadows and Billy entertained the following guests to dinner Friday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Chester Peters, Karen and Ricky, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moss and Nina, Mr. Warren Brown, all of Ashville; Mr. and Mrs. William Minshall and boys, Danny, Terry and Bill of Hillsboro; and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Edler, Christy and Amy of Kingston.

Mrs. Henry Bushatz, Mr. Henry Bushatz Jr., and Mrs. Eugene Stewart were in Columbus Saturday afternoon to attend funeral services for Mrs. Bushatz's nephew, Mr. Richard Belford.

Mrs. William S. Rhoades was appointed for one year as clerk of the Corporation of Kingston to take the place of the late Mrs. Helen C. Black.

Residents of Kingston are sorry to learn that Mr. and Mrs. John White have decided to move their store from Kingston to Mt. Victory 100 miles north. The Whites own and operate a department store at the corner of Main and Pickaway Sts., and are now conducting a sale preparatory to moving.

The little restaurant on Main Street, near the High School building, has again changed hands. The new management is Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beavers and Mr. Gerald Smith, of Circleville. Robert Beavers is a native of Kingston, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Beavers.

The restaurant has also been given a new name, "The Kopper Kettle".

Recent out of town guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haynes were their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Postance and daughter, Sara, of Wolfboro, N. H.; Miss Carolyn Ater, Pittsburgh, Pa. Dr. and Mrs. David Ater and daughter, Lori, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Loughran, Los Alamos, N. Mex.; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ater of Frankfort.

PICKETING THE PICKET—Non-union barber Ellis Alberston went labor one better when his shop was picketed, in Lomita, Calif., hiring Mary Cobb (left) and Pat O'Neill to picket the picket. Not only that, but they attracted a crowd and his four-chair shop was thronged with customers.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.

Miss Dorothy Dickinson, a senior student at Ashville High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dickinson, will receive a gold medal Sunday at Columbus Veterans Memorial Auditorium for winning the Regional Prince of Peace Essay Contest and being one of the top six in the state contest. She also will be awarded $50 in cash and a four day tour of the United Nations building in New York City.

Miss Dickinson previously received a silver medal for the county contest, and went on to win the district and the regional contests.

Sunday they will introduce the six place winners of the state and announce their standings. In addition to the prizes listed above they will receive as follows: Fourth, fifth, and sixth place winners will receive $50 in cash; third place will receive $50 in cash and granted a one-year college scholarship; second place will receive $75 in cash and granted a two-year college scholarship; and first place winner will receive $100 in cash and a four-year college scholarship.

The Ashville basketball homecoming game and dance will be held at the school Friday evening. The Ashville teams will meet Williamsport with the reserve game starting at 7 p. m.

The queen and her court will be presented at halftime ceremonies. Reigning queen will be Teresa Cummins, a senior student. Her court is as follows: Linda Baum, senior attendant; Kathy Stout, junior attendant; Patty Bartholomew, sophomore attendant; and Patty Barr, freshman attendant.

An orchestra will be obtained for the dance, sponsored by the Student Council. The dance is open to the public.

THE District Deputy Meeting of the Knights of Pythias will be held at the lodge hall at 8 p. m. January 25.

Mrs. Guy Leatherwood was returned to her home this past week after being confined in Mercy Hospital, Columbus. Her condition is reported to be much improved.

The Bastian Funeral Home reports the following ambulance runs this past week: Tuesday, January 10, returned Mrs. George Grove to her home from White Cross Hospital; Friday, January 13, took Mrs. Neil Leatherwood to White Cross Hospital; and Sunday, January 15, took Milled LaPat and Richard Miller of Whitehall to Berger Hospital following an auto accident in the north-eastern part of the county.

The Ashville PTA will meet Thursday in the school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. A program has been planned by the Pickaway County Polio Foundation. A business meeting will be held also.

The Ashville Methodist Church Fellowship Class will hold its January meeting and fun night at the church at 8 p. m. Sunday. Surprised members of the class this week received phone calls to "come as you are right now" on Sunday evening.

It should prove to be a very entertaining evening. Hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helsler and Mr. and Mrs. Flood.

The Lydia Circle of the First English Lutheran Church will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Wayne Bisker.

A Polio Benefit Basketball Game will be played at the Ashville gym on January 24 at 7 p. m. with the faculty members of Logan Elm meeting the faculty of Ashville. Two games will be played. The first will be among the women teachers of both schools and the second among the men teachers of both schools.

The public is invited and all proceeds will go to the Pickaway County Polio Fund.

About 60 billion eggs are used by Americans each year.
